Emily Meschter Early Learning Center
Oct 1-5

This Week

This week during our whole group we will be focusing on patterns. Our class will be creating movement patterns such as clap, stomp, clap and more! In our centers we will be creating more patterns with paint, beads, pom poms and popsicle sticks.

In Miss Jessica's class we will be reading the book, My Name is Sangoel by Karen Williams and Khadra Mohammed. Our class will be discussing the difference between the countries Sudan and America and what our vocab words mean.

I currently have a calendar hanging above the sign in sheet. This is for parents, grandparents and other family members to sign up and speak to the class about their career! We would love to get as many volunteers as possible! Please email, call or use the Remind App with any questions you may have!

Upcoming...

HAPPY FALL! It may not feel like fall with our hot AZ weather, but we are bringing fall to our classroom! This month I will be asking for many donations such as pumpkins, fake fall leaves and more fall items. I will be posting donations on sticky notes, as well as in our newsletter. I appreciate all the help and support :)

Fall Break will be Oct 18th & 19th
Block Party Wednesday Oct 24th from 4:30-6:00 pm

Parent Tip:

If your child is refusing to do a task or chore try making it a game! If your child does not want to put his/her shoes on pretend you work at the shoe store. Humor and games are great tools that are sometimes forgotten.
